Szeged has a rich historical past, moreover, a fantastic range of historical buildings, churches as the monumental Votive Church and the unique Synagogue or museums that are shaping brightness of the town. The National Historical Memorial Park in Ópusztaszer as one of the oldest villages in Hungary is an unequalled curiosity of the Hungarian historical and cultural past. Explore the local attractions by other sites of cultural events such as Szeged Open Air Festival or unforgettable shows of the Contemporary Ballet.
The beautiful and marvellous university town Szeged is ideally located in the heart of Central Europe. The lonely river Tisza and the extra number of sunshine hours (average temperature ranging between 22–28 C° from May to October) bring all the beauty of the region powerfully to delight the senses. Due to these influences, the region boasts particularly rich flora and fauna admired in the University Botanical Garden, as well.

Szeged offers unique culinary joys with the Hungaricum Pick salami or the famous Szeged fish soup. Many glamorous restaurants fuse a great variety of Hungarian traditional and international cuisine featuring an exceptional selection of fine Hungarian wines.

Joint a flourishing bath culture, Anna Wellness and Medicinal Spa or the reopening Wellness Hotel Forrás can give a sense of interior balance and well being. Based on the traditional thermal spring waters of Szeged these facilities provide an extensive variety of wellness therapies completed with professional medical services.
The intellectual power accumulated at the University of Szeged and the researches conducted here have turned the institution into a crucial actor of innovation in Szeged. With its 12 faculties, 30,000 students and more than 1,000 foreign students, the University of Szeged and its internationally renowned research groups participate in high-quality education, as well as, support welcoming and organizing scientific conventions in Szeged.
Due to the innovation strategy and management of the university it is allowed to establish knowledge centres in Szeged based on current industrial demand. Efforts are focused on variant areas of research:

- Utilization of renewable and unused energy resources
- Waste recovery program
- Utilization of geothermal energy and biomass
- Environmental technology
- Energetic and information technology

The University of Szeged is actively involved in drawing up long-term programmes such as Biopolisz Pólus, moreover research in advanced information and communication technology serves these fields of study and appears as an independent area of development of Szeged.

The University of Szeged Congress Centre operates as a Study and Information Centre, as well, rated by OECD as one of the world’s most important educational investments in 2005.
The fabulous University Library, the modern Computer Area and the Student Union Offices provides both studying and recreation opportunities for students, teachers and visitors at the same time.
